State, County and town officials will join tomorrow afternoon in a united tribute to Ralph N. Smith, late clerk of the Middlesex Superior Court whose funeral will be held at 2 o'clock at his home, 33 Gray st. Rev. John Nicol Mark, pastor of the First Congregational Parish, Unitarian church and Rev. Frederic Gill, minister emeritus, will conduct the services. Burial will be in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

All flags on municipal buildings are at half staff in memory of Clerk Smith who died suddenly last Wednesday, the day on which he was to start another six-year term of office. He had been stricken with a cold last Friday and was removed to his home. Because of his death, District Attorney Warren L. Bishop and other county officers who are usually sworn into office in the Clerk's office at East Cambridge were obliged to go to the State House to be sworn in by Secretary of State Cook.

Brilliant Record
Mr. Smith, who was 63 years old, had been connected with the Middlesex County clerk's office for 35 years, and in 1921 was appointed to the office of clerk of courts, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William C. Dillingham.

He was elected to the office the following year, and since that time has been reelected at each succeeding election.

He was born in Worcester and educated in the Worcester grammar schools and at Templeton High school from which he graduated with the class of 1888. Two years later he entered the county employ as bookkeeper and teacher at the House of Correction at East Cambridge. He was appointed to the Middlesex clerk of courts office in 1893 and was commissioned third assistant three years later. In 1910 he became second assistant.

He lived in Arlington about 35 years, more than 25 of them at 33 Gray st.

Mr. Smith is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Smith; a son, Robert and a daughter, Margaret.

First Assistant Clerk of Courts Frederic L. Patnam of Melrose went to the Pemberton sq. courthouse shortly before noon Wednesday and made formal report of Mr. Smith's death to the Supreme Court justices. He received from them authority to serve as acting clerk of courts until Mr. Smith's successor is appointed.

Gordon Hurwitz of Dorothy Road Homeward Bound From New York at Time of Mishap—Had Spent Holidays With Friends In Manhattan—Steamer Rammed By Freighter in East River—Quick Rescue Of Passengers and Crew Follows.

Homeward bound after spending the holiday season with friends in New York City, Gordon Hurwitz, 22 years old, of 26 Dorothy rd, this town escaped death by inches when the Colonial Navigation Line steamer Lexington on which he was aboard was rammed by a tramp freighter and sank in the East River last Wednesday night.

The young man was saved with all the passengers and was able to call his home from a New York hotel late Wednesday night. His parents were overjoyed on hearing of his safety and expected him home some time yesterday. He had left home before Christmas to spend the holidays with college mates. He was graduated from Michigan University.

News of the sinking of the steamer, bound for Providence from New York startled the country. Fear was first felt for the lives of the 130 passengers and crew of 52. The steamer was between the Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges when the tramp freighter, Jane Christenson plowed into her starboard side. The Lexington was split by the force and the forepart of the ship lay in 40 feet of water almost directly beneath the Manhattan bridge. The aft part of the ship rolled against a slip on the Manhattan shore of the river and was tied to moorings.

Rescue Speedy
The speed with which rescue operations were carried out accounted for the safety of the passengers and crew.
Officers on the tramp freighter steadily nosed into the hull of the Lexington. Two tugboats, the Patience and the John Ruggie, were alongside in a few minutes. Most of the passengers were taken off by these tugs. Other tugs took off the crew and a few of the passengers who were in the icy waters of the river.

All the rescued were rushed to the offices of the company at Pier 11 in the Hudson River.

Three hours afterward, Captain Pendleton issued the following statement:
"We left our pier in Manhattan about 6 p. m. bound for Providence, R. I. The weather was clear and as we proceeded up the East River, the tide was a little flood. We came up the East River about in the middle of the river."

"We were proceeding slowly when the steamer Jane Christenson

RALPH N. SMITH

The death of Ralph N. Smith last Wednesday brings to an all too sudden end the career of a man who had served the County for thirty-five years. Always eager to serve his fellowmen and with a record that was above reproach, his loss is a hard blow to all who knew him. With no thought of material reward, Mr. Smith was always ready to be of assistance to anyone in need. To young lawyers, especially, Mr. Smith was somewhat of a father. To all he gave freely whatever information he had in his capacity as Clerk of the Superior Court.

No one knew Mr. Smith better than those who came in contact with him through court matters. His character and kind disposition were well known to the general public for only last November he was given a tremendous vote. Last Wednesday, death stepped in as he was to start another six-year term as Clerk of Courts.

The esteem in which Mr. Smith was held by members of the Bar is expressed by an Arlington attorney who said, "Kindness and modesty were his two outstanding traits. These, combined with a thorough knowledge of Superior Court machinery, made him the helpful big brother to the most embarrassed young attorney with his first court case. To such he was always alert to proffer his assistance. The door to his private office was always open. The Middlesex Bar as a whole and lawyers throughout the Commonwealth who had dealings with him will regard his loss as that of a very near and affectionate relative."

We join the hundreds who knew him and offer our sympathy to his family.

Bates To Explain Traffic Project At Chamber Of Commerce

Van New Bates, president of the Metropolitan Improvement Association, whose plan for a gigantic traffic and rapid transit concourse from Arlington to Boston was published in last week's NEWS will address the Chamber of Commerce at its meeting in Wyman's tavern next Tuesday evening.

His talk on the proposed "Northwestern Massachusetts-to-Boston gateway via the Somerville traffic and transit concourse" is expected to bring forth some interesting discussion. The proposed plan is to be incorporated in a bill which will be filed in the Legislature this week.

Following a big sing which will begin at 7.45, C. K. Tripp, head of the Educational Department of the General Electric Company will be introduced and will speak on the subject "What Is A Medium?" Mr. Tripp has made the investigation of spiritualists, mediums, and their methods of producing effects a hobby for many years. In his address he will deal with the method used and the effects produced. An intensely interested meeting is being anticipated by those in charge of the program.

Following a brief business meeting the program will be turned over to Frank Hughes and his Social Committee and games and a general good time will be enjoyed. The evening will be closed with refreshments.

No charge is made for this program and the men and friends of Calvary Church are invited to be present.

THE NEWS OBSERVES

Arlington's new Senator made an auspicious debut in the State Senate this week. Although Senator Charles T. Daly comes from Medford, he frankly believes that Arlington will get recognition from him.

During the filibuster which has already made the new Senate outstanding, the genial Senator had an opportunity to tell his colleagues all about the district he represents. They were surprised about a few things. Good luck, Senator.

Representatives Hollis M. Gott and Nelson B. Crosby started another term this week. We know they'll have our interest at heart.

William Green of A. F. of L. estimates November unemployed total at 11,459,000, against 11,039,000 for October, and 429,000 more than in November a year ago. Rise from October to November considered seasonal. Survey shows that with 25,500,000 on relief and 6,500,000 on government payrolls, one out of five in United States now benefit from federal funds.

Work on the new St. Jerome's Church is being held up a bit because of the cold, and the dedication date will probably be in March instead of February as first expected.

We wonder where Frank Shanahan, NEWS staff photographer, got the mistletoe which decorates his roadster?

THE NEWS has received a good lot of tin foil from Little Rachel Meeserve, youngest active member of the American Legion Juniors. The tin foil will be sent to the Shriners' Hospital in Springfield. Thank you Rachel.

"We Live Again" At The Capital Theatre

"We Live Again" brings Anna Sten and Fredric March to the screen of the Capital Theatre Monday, in a provocative picture of Tolstoy's prophetic novel, "Resurrection."

An idyllic courtship between an aristocratic young cadet and a beautiful peasant girl becomes a grim struggle through misery and despair toward happiness and peace in the screen play by Preston Sturges, Maxwell Anderson and Leonard Praskins.

Not for a long, long time has there been as young a leading lady as Patricia Ellis, who has the chief feminine role opposite James Cagney in the Warner Bros. production, "The St. Louis Kid," which comes to the Capitol Theatre on Monday.

"The St. Louis Kid" is a stirring romance with hilarious comedy and melodramatic thrills based on a story by Frederick Hazlitt Brennan, James Cagney is the star with the charming Miss Ellis playing the romantic role opposite him.

George Massa, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. Pasquale Massa of 90 Yarns st., played the piano for the children's Christmas party at the Michael Angelo School, Boston recently. He is only seven years old. The party was given by the Women's Italian club. Two hundred children were present.

ROTARY HEARS TALK ON BENEFITS OF NEW FEDERAL HOUSING ACT

Community-wide support of the Federal Housing program which provides bank loans with which to make necessary repairs to homes, was urged by Frank G. Flynn, special representative of the Federal Housing branch office in Boston at a meeting of the Arlington Rotary club in the Middlesex Sportsman's clubhouse last Wednesday noon.

The speaker was introduced by Henry D. Keenan general chairman of the local Better Housing campaign committee. Following Mr. Flynn's talk, a lively discussion period followed in which the speaker answered several arguments regarding the Act.

Mr. Flynn said: "The Housing Program is the one gigantic project which we have needed to lead us back to a period of prosperity. In order to have recovery throughout the Nation it is essential to have the wheels of the durable goods industries turning at a fast rate—it is essential to put back to work the men of the building trades who have been out of work for years and who have been harder hit by the depression than any other group of workers. It is essential to put into circulation the vast amount of funds which has piled up in our banks because of the enactment of the Better Housing program, the sound banker was not in a position to loan the depositors funds without the borrower putting up good collateral.

"The Federal Housing Administration is insuring financial institutions against losses they may incur as a result of loans made for alterations and repairs upon real property. Therefore, the banker should now freely make loans for the improvement of property.

"The success of the Housing program will accomplish the desired results and the active support of the program by the leaders in every community will insure its success.

"Now, what is the National Housing Act? The National Housing Act was signed by the President on June 27, 1934 and on July 7th President Roosevelt appointed James A. Moffett Federal Housing Administrator. Under his direction, an organization has been set up in every state. Already, many leaders in American business and finance have hailed the National Housing Act as the greatest step yet taken by your Government in its drive toward recovery.

Generally speaking, the Housing Act falls into two main divisions. The first provides for modernization of homes and other buildings. The second part provides for construction of new buildings. Today, we are concerned entirely with the first part—the repairing and modernization program—a project of mighty proportions and of the greatest importance to the people of the United States.

Based on Confidence "You and I know that confidence is the foundation of all contacts in life. The heart of business activity is confidence; confidence in ourselves and in the economic condition of the country. When confidence is strong it takes the form of active buying and selling, lending and borrowing. During the years of the depression, when confidence was low, billions of dollars piled up in banks because there was not any stimulus to keep them in circulation. The problem then, has been to re-establish confidence which will put these billions back into normal circulation. Here is where the Better Housing Program enters the picture. Our banks, trust companies and other lending agencies could easily lend billions to home owners. Lending institutions however, have not felt that they could lend their depositors' money without the liquid security required by good banking practice. The National Housing Act has provided this security. The Federal Housing Administration is insuring financial institutions against losses they may incur as a result of loans made for repairs of real property. The credit insurance covers as much as 20 percent of the total amount advanced by any approved lending agency to all of its borrowers to repair property under the terms of the National Housing Act. The Government has established personal character as a basis for sound lending and has relieved the home owner of the burden of furnishing collateral.

"Thus, confidence is restored in the field of home financing. Use of this credit by property owners will send vast sums of money back into circulation.

Jobs To Millions

"The Better Housing Program can bring jobs to millions of men and women, many of whom have been unemployed for several years. If property owners begin to make ne-er repairs. The demand for material and supplies will create jobs and payrolls in many different industries—especially in those producing steel, lumber, copper, cement, lime, brick, furnaces, boilers, electrical goods and so on.

The Better Housing Program means more jobs and payrolls in scores of allied industries. An increase in employment will mean an increase in purchasing power. It will mean greater business activity and prosperity throughout the country.

Let us now consider the effect of the program on your own community. For the moment let us assume that you yourself, have obtained your modernization loan. Immediately local painters, carpenters, plumbers or electricians go to work on your house. The number of unemployed in Arlington is cut down and relief rolls in Arlington grow shorter. The men who are working on your house spend their wages in the stores and shops of Arlington. Your grocer, your druggist—the dry goods merchant and all other business men enjoy an increased volume of business. The increase in business activity is reflected in better incomes for those of you who are in the professions. You who are doctors, dentists and lawyers, find that you can collect your fees more promptly. In other words, every man and woman in Arlington will benefit.

Pride In Home

What does the Better Housing Program mean to you and your family? It means a home in which you can take greater pride, a home which is more dignified and more comfortable. It prolongs the usefulness and the material value of a house. It increases the value of your property and prevents the rapid depreciation that follows neglect.

How can you get your modernization loan? The process is very simple. The first step is to see a contractor, or building supply dealer and find out the exact cost of the work to be done. Then call at your bank, or any other financial institution here in Arlington, which has been approved under the Federal Housing Administration and apply for a loan for the required amount. If you own the property, if your annual income is five times the annual payments on the note, and if you have a good credit standing, you will be considered eligible for a loan. As long as you are considered a good moral risk you can obtain the money by simply signing a note.

In conclusion, I should like to bring forcefully to your attention that the Federal Housing Administration is conducting the most intensive selling and advertising campaign ever attempted in the Nation. You men of Arlington should participate in this campaign and reap the benefits of it. Take an active interest in the work of your Federal Housing committee; talk the Housing Program every time you have an opportunity to do so. By stimulating local activity, every man and woman in the community will share in the results. Just imagine what will be accomplished if every community will give the Better Housing Program active support. Money will be put into greater business activity and more jobs and payrolls. It will bring you and the whole nation a long step toward permanent recovery."

home; that his income is five times as much as the amount to be paid back each year; and that his credit is good, the speaker pointed out. He made clear that it was an installment payment proposition and the interest rate of 9 per cent which is charged is not more than that charged on autos, refrigerators or furniture, bought on time. John A. Bishop, treasurer of the Menotomy Trust pointed out that bankers generally scrutinize all applications for loans very carefully so that there is little possibility of loss on the part of the bank or the government.

Kiwanis News

The annual installation of officers was held at the Wyman's Tavern last evening, at which time the gavel exchanged hands from Allen Cowie to president-elect Elmer E. Anderson.

After a delicious banquet the installation was conducted by Steven Dow, Lt. Gov., who succeeded our own 'Spin' Wunderly. As guest of honor, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Leonard Collins, gave a very interesting address.

Governor elect 'Jim' Gallagher also gave an interesting discourse on Kiwanis spirit in his pleasing manner.

The officers installed for the coming year were: President, Elmer E. Anderson; 1st Vice President, James M. Keane; 2nd Vice President, Lewis M. Bowe; Treasurer, William D. ARLINGTON VICTOR IN TWO HOCKEY GAMES

By BOB FOREST

Led by Bob Mee, Arlington High's brilliant right wing, and potential All-Scholastic, the Red and Gray emerged victor from two scraps which led all others in the Interscholastic Hockey League this week. At the Arena last Saturday afternoon with Cambridge whom they downed 4 to 2. Bob Mee scored twice. Bill Collins at defense was almost impregnable with his powerful body checks and ever-ready poke checks. Bob Mee scored the opening goal against Stoneham last Tuesday with one of those tremendously powerful shots that usually sets the goalies back on their pins. Arlington won 3-0.

Both Arlington games were the topnotchers of the day with their unusual line and vim, which seems to be instilled in the Arlington team this year. Keefe, Captain Norberg, Preston and "Dynamite" Joe Gardella are responsible for Arlington having the fight and pep.

Joe Gardella has done yeoman work on the ice when Arlington has been playing short handed due to alleged infractions of the rules which have been some times quite debatable. Arlington is by far the most penalized team in the league. They have played a number of times short two men, and they play about an average of one period a game with a man in the penalty box, yet they have been scored on only once with a man short. Every man on the Arlington first two lines and regular defense has scored at least one goal except Byrne this year.

The Arlington team has looked considerably improved in these last two games, and sports the best shots in the league. They will pepper the Melrose goalie in the Garden tomorrow when they tangle in the game of the year. Melrose was going in high gear right up to the last two games in which they only managed to eke out a tie with Belmont and a loss to Medford, scoring only one goal in both games, while the Red and Gray has allowed only two goals while they were registering seven for their own side.

In the Stoneham game, Mee gave Arlington an early lead in the first stanza when he sent a shot from the blue line that went by the goalie so fast that he didn't know that it was in. Preston made it 2 to 0 in the third period and let down the tension a little so that Coach Charlie Downes was able to use some of his sub. Coyne, the sub goalie made a sensational stop while he was in the goal. Preston broke through the Stoneham barrage in the last few seconds and came in on the goalie all alone to shoot over his prostrate form for the third tally. He had picked up a pass from Gardella on the first goal.

Cambridge Latin stayed with Arlington for a couple of periods and added by Sakolian who gave Cambridge their two goals by poor tending. But superior skating and stronger attacks in the final period put the Red and Gray over with a bang. Chipman featured in the third period with his very timely goal. Gardella. SATURDAY'S GAME

ARLINGTON—Mee, rw; Norberg, c; Keefe, lw; Collins, rd; Byrne, ld; Sakolian, g; spares, Preston, Gardella, Chipman. CAMBRIDGE LATIN—Buckley, lw; Chaisson, c; Martin, rw; A. Boudreau, ld; Fitzgerald, rd; Gomes, g; spares, W. Boudreau, Sullivan.

Local Young People Prominent At Hub New Year's Parties

Many Arlington young people were guests at the New Year's Eve party conducted by the Boston Junior League in the George Brown Hall last Monday evening. Music for the affair was furnished by one of Arlington's foremost bandmasters, Duke Charles Novessian. In addition to the dancing and general holiday festivities the Duke introduced his Glee Club which is composed of local young men and women. They sang several songs and were repeatedly called on for encores. Miss Betty MacDonald, whose voice is very similar to that of Babs Ryan, featured singer in Fred Waring's Orchestra, led the singing. Other Arlington singers who contributed much to the success of the program were Lorraine Miller, Donna Wood, Movese Novessian, former president of the Arlington Junior League, and Errol Young of Gray Street.

Another intown affair which attracted a large number of local persons Monday night was the formal dance sponsored by the Armenian Students Association at the Hotel Somerset. Al Movessian of Lake Street, President of the club, was in charge of the dance committee.

Police are investigating a break at the gasoline filling station owned by William O. Hauser, at 264 Massachusetts ave. The place was entered last Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

son of the Arrow Line rammed us just forward of the midship on the starboard side.

"She cut into us pretty far and I could see we would sink. We sank very quickly, but all were saved."

"I have great praise for my officers and crew and the vessels in the vicinity. They worked with vigilance and valor and if it were not for their bravery there would have been loss of life.

"The passengers were very calm in the emergency."

After the collision, the tramp steamer proceeded to Red Hook Flat on the Brooklyn shore, the marine division of the police announced.

Captain Pendleton of the Lexington attributed the collision to a misunderstanding of signals.

In Other Mishaps There was a heavy traffic in East River when the tramp steamer plowed into the starboard side of the Lexington, almost amidships.

The Lexington was in three previous mishaps.

On Oct. 6, 1919, while proceeding up the East River for Providence, she was rammed at Hell's Gate by the U. S. submarine O-7.

The submarine's steering apparatus failed to work and it plowed directly into the bow of the passenger ship. No one was hurt.

The next year, a steam pipe burst in the engine room, once more as the Lexington was bound for Providence. All the passengers were taken off safely.

In December, 1929, the steamer crashed into the Ocean Dominion steamship pier at the foot of Stanton st. in the East River, tearing a six-foot hole in her side.
